Language and Power in Blogs Brook Bolander,2013-12-15 Language and Power in Blogs systematically analyses the discursive practices of bloggers and their readers in eight English-language personal/diary blogs. The main focus is thereby placed on ties between these practices and power. The book demonstrates that the exercise of power in this mode can be studied via the analysis of conversational control (turn-taking, speakership and topic control), coupled with research on agreements and disagreements. In this vein, it reveals that control of the floor is strongly tied not solely to rates of participation, but more strikingly to the types of contributions interlocutors make. With its detailed linguistic analyses and comprehensive theoretical and methodological treatment of language use and power, the book is interesting for researchers and students working within the domains of pragmatics, discourse analysis, text linguistics and corpus linguistics, in both offline and online settings.

Reflection of Memories Tesa Jones, 2017-07-21 Richard Malone and Caroline Sue Miller are born on the same day to parents who live on opposite sides of the societal fences in a small coal-mining town of western Pennsylvania. Despite the economic differences between their families, the two children become best friends, and their unexpected friendship eventually blossoms into forbidden love. In order to be together and escape their bleak, small town opportunities, they leave the security of their homes and settle in New Jersey where their future is a blank slate. As Richard and Caroline make their way through life, their choices often veer their love off course, but the bond they share has deep roots that continually pull them together again. This tale of family, friendship, and love incorporates the historical events and cultural changes of the tumultuous 1900s while following the course of one couple whose connection is stronger than class or circumstance. Whether you're sailing through youthful days or enjoying your golden years, Reflection of Memories will capture your heart and remind you of what is truly important in life.

Life's a Blog Richard Plant, 2012-08 WEB LOG Blog. New word. Old usage. You've been 'blogging' for years without the 'interweb', even if you didn't realise it. Blog is derived from 'Web Log'. Blogging is recording comments or opinions on facts of the day, and placing it (posting) on social media outlets for all to see. It is like keeping a public diary, which is what Rex and Katie have done singly and together over the years. Life's a Blog is the sixth dive into those diaries and the resultant stories, all based on fact, are an eclectic mix of memoir, travel, opinion and everyday living. Some are told with humour in verse. In some, fact may have been embellished a tiny bit. Join them on their journey. Enjoy the foibles of the people they come across. Marvel at the way 'the other lot' live life, love life and worry about life at the same time. And laugh out loud as you do! There might be a tear on one page, a smile on the next, then a frown, a laugh, some concern and an understanding that there is a sole universe for every single person on this planet.

Blog Love Omega Glee Wred Fright, 2012-07-19 Two bloggers fall in love while the world falls apart in Blog Love Omega Glee, a comedic story set in 2012, with each chapter taking place on a different day counting down to the end of the Mayan calendar on 21 December 2012, when the world either ends or continues on much the same as before. The two central characters are Jake Falls, a twenty-five-year-old unemployed man living with his parents who spends most of his time blogging about pro wrestling, and Francine Apple, a twenty-nine-year-old barely employed woman who has dropped out of the American Dream to blog about various conspiracy theories. Other characters abound as well, including Jake's cats, family, and friends, and Francine's coworkers, housemates, and neighbors. The story is set in Cleaveland, a decaying industrial city in the northern part of the USA, and its suburbs on the shores of Lake Eerie. It's year 12 of a fascist regime, and a severed head named Dick with a soft drink vending machine for a body is president/dictator, but no one much notices because they're too busy watching television and obsessing over their personal lives to worry about wars overseas, the government swindling taxpayers, and the rich stuffing their already-stuffed pockets further with rapidly-depreciating currency. Some people find this worrisome, but most people just change the channel. Regardless, even though in many ways for the average person life is still better than ever before in the history of human existence since Eden, most people feel a vague sense of unease, as if the delicate stitching of society is about to come undone at any moment, pouring forth a centuries long buildup of too many human beings, anarchy in the streets, environmental collapse, and lots and lots of really bad coffee. Between existential dread, economic worries, presidential electioneering, electronic domineering, and large sweaty men in tights touching one another as entertainment, there's Blog Love Omega Glee! Blog Love Omega Glee was originally published on Wred Fright's Blog as a blognovel or a blovel! Unlike, most blognovels and blovels, this one actually was finished, instead of being abandoned. Since the story has four parts, depending on how you look at it, it's either one really long novel, or a series of four novels. After being serialized on the blog and as a zine to a few select zinesters Fright trades with, the novel was collected as an ebook. One fun way to read it is a chapter a day during the course of a year (especially a leap year like 2012 was), or go for reading all 230,000 words or so in one lump! The novel's been noted in American Pop Lit (who called Fright an innovative writer of fun new pop lit--a pioneer in the fight to revive American literature), Attacking The Demi-Puppets, Cleveland Scene, Cool Cleveland (who wrote, and (perhaps best of all) it's set in 2012 in a city called 'Cleaveland' (not to be confused, wink-wink, with our city with the slightly different spelling)--hmm . . . I wonder if there's a Cool Cleaveland email newsletter in the novel . . .), The Rumpus by author Mickey Hess (who blurbed Goons and patriots, get ready! Wred Fright's new novel scowls at your perfect sentences. There are gorgeous techniques and colorful dialogue, the book's action, mood, the author himself. There are things this novelist should be allowed to do that the rest of us are not.), Try This At Home by novelist Eddie Willson (who wrote, After experimenting with multiple narrators in his novel The Pornographic Flabbergasted Emus, Wred Fright continues to develop his fiction in inventive ways. Here he's posting a new novel in blog form. Set in the near future the regularly updated narrative charts the lives of wrestling-fixated loser Jake and militant waitress Francine. I've got some catching up to do but this is addictive stuff. Here and elsewhere Wred's big strength is in characterization--he's got a real gift for getting you rooting for characters whose lives have got a bit bent out of shape. This tale's going to be taking up my lunch breaks for the foreseeable future. Highly recommended.), The Whirliblog (who wrote that It's tastier than Cap'n Crunk!), Xerography Debt, and Zine World.
